

UKALL14

A randomised trial for adults with newly diagnosed acute lymphoblastic leukaemia

Since the Easter Newsletter we have been hard at work activating new sites and randomising patients. We now have 44 activated sites and 52 patients. WELL DONE EVERYONE!! This is a great start to the trial!

There are a further 6 sites that have been initiated and are awaiting activation as you can see from the table below:

Site	Estimated Activation Date
Torbay Hospital	12 th December 2011
Poole General Hospital	Beginning of January 2012
St Bart's	12 th December 2011
Queens Hospital, Romford	12 th December 2011
Royal Bournemouth Hospital	16 th December 2011
Russells Hall Hospital	End of December 2011

On behalf of Dr Adele Fielding (CI) and the Trial Management Group, I would just like to say a huge thank you to everyone working on UKALL14. This incredibly important trial has been open for almost a year now and is recruiting on schedule (which is fantastic)! Keep up the good work!

I hope you all have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Simon Purnell - UKALL14 Trial Coordinator
